Terms & Conditions of participation in scuba diving activities

By signing this registration form, the participant accepts the following terms and conditions:

The participant has been informed that scuba diving can be strenuous under certain conditions. In order to participate in scuba diving activities, the participant must submit a diver's medical statement and, if necessary, an additional medical certificate by a physician. Participation in diving is prohibited in case of drug or medication addiction or alcohol abuse within the last 12 hours before the dive.

The minimum age of participants is 8 years. Minors must have the written consent of their legal guardian(s).

The participant must observe and comply with the general diving rules of the international diving associations and the valid insurance conditions. In addition, the instructions of the dive centre personnel must be followed. Violations may result in immediate exclusion from scuba diving activities.

The proper condition of the dive centres equipment is regularly and carefully checked. This circumstance does not release the participant from his obligation to make sure that the equipment is in working order before each dive.

While participating in recreational scuba diving activities, we conduct dives (no decompression) up to 40m maximum depth. Technical dives and special courses, which require decompression dives and/or greater depths, are excluded from this. A check dive may be required of any scuba diver.

If a dive is terminated prematurely for reasons beyond the control of the dive centre or its staff, there is no right to a refund. A dive is considered to have started with the descent. No money will be refunded in the event of failure or dropping out of a diving course.

The dive centre is not liable for loss, damage or theft. The transfer between the dive centre and the dive site (by car and/or boat) is carried out under exclusion of any liability on the part of the dive centre or the driver of the vehicle.

In case of loss or damage of the dive centres own equipment, the usual commercial prices will be charged.

The participant is advised to use a dive computer and be adequately covered by ab diving accident and liability insurance.
